Dear Conference Attendees,

Welcome to the 88th Annual Meeting of the Society for Military History in Fort Worth, Texas. Heather Venable and the Program Committee have put together an outstanding group of panels, and I thank her and her team for their hard work in assembling the program. Whether you are attending in person or virtually, I hope you enjoy the events and panels, as well as the special comradery that is a hallmark of our Society.

The program this year features two presidential roundtables. The staff of the National Medal of Honor Museum has gathered several Medal of Honor recipients to discuss their experiences at war, which will be of great interest to many of you. The second roundtable features a group with expertise in Societal governance, program development, and staffing. We hope that those of you who want to know more about the inner workings of the Society will take advantage of this opportunity to learn about how the Society is governed and conducts its business.

This year marks a change in meeting organization, with the professional conference planning firm Cypress Planning Group organizing the conference. Nevertheless, the transition to this new model has required much of our Executive Director, C.C. Felker, and on behalf of the Society I thank him for his efforts over these past months to ensure the success of this new conference planning model.

As with last year's meeting, we will once again live-stream every panel and major event for those members who are attending virtually. This is an enormous task requiring a great deal of resources, a robust information technology backbone, and savvy technical expertise. Once again, we have called on the redoubtable Maysan Haydar to manage the hybrid portion of the conference, and I personally thank her for her willingness to serve in this capacity. She is a Society treasure.

Thanks also to our sponsors, Texas Christian University, Texas Tech University, and Texas A&M University-Central Texas. Their contributions to the meeting, whether in resources or volunteer labor, are much appreciated.

Fort Worth prides itself on being the city where the West began. For those attending in-person, I hope you find time to get out and enjoy the Stockyards. Mask up and stay safe.

Sincerely,

Peter R. Mansoor
President, Society for Military History

THE BERLIN AIRLIFT AND THE MAKING OF THE COLD WAR

FORTHCOMING

The Berlin Airlift and the Making of the Cold War brings together historians and political scientists to explore the origins, course, and impacts of the Berlin Airlift after seventy years. Here, scholars and authorities on the Airlift, its logistics, the great power competition involved, and the position of Berlin within a divided and occupied Central Europe discuss not only the Airlift itself but also the critical role the operation played in shaping the physical and mental landscape of Cold War confrontation in Europe. 320 pp. 26 b&w photos. Bib. Index. $45.00 hardcover

Black Dragon recounts the experience of a single Marine rifle company—2-F-23, or “Fox” Company—and its drive through the central Pacific in World War II. Author Steven D. McCloud, through painstaking research of battlefield reports and extensive interviews with surviving members of Fox Company, has reanimated the grueling, day-by-day slog through the Pacific theater through the eyes of the US Marines who endured it.

Readers who reveled in Stephen Ambrose’s masterful oral history of E Company in the European theater will find similar heroism and heartbreak in the pages of Black Dragon.

89TH Annual Meeting of the Society for Military History

March 23-26, 2023

Hilton San Diego Bayfront

Coordinated by the Cypress Planning Group

The Society for Military History is pleased to announce a call for papers for its 89th Annual Meeting, coordinated by the Cypress Planning Group in San Diego, California, 23-26 March, 2023. Conference hotel is the Hilton San Diego Bayfront.

For the 2023 meeting, the Program Committee will consider paper and panel proposals on all aspects of military history. Submissions of pre-organized panels and roundtables are strongly encouraged and will be given preference in the selection process. Panel and paper proposals will clearly explain their topics and questions in ways that will be understandable to the broad membership of the SMH, not only to those interested in the specific topics in question. Additionally, the SMH encourages the representation of the full diversity of its membership and especially values panel and roundtable proposals that reflect the organization's diversity of institutional affiliations, various career paths and ranks, gender, race, and ethnicity.

Panel proposals must include a panel title and 300-word abstract summarizing the theme of the panel; paper title and a 300-word abstract for each paper proposed; and a one-page curriculum vitae for each panelist (including the chair and commentator) that includes institutional affiliation, email address, and other contact information (including the moderator, if any).

Roundtable proposals must include a roundtable title, the full name and institutional affiliation of each participant, a 300-word abstract summarizing the roundtable's themes and points of discussion, and a one-page curriculum vitae for each participant.

Individual paper proposals are also welcome and must include a 300-word abstract of the paper, and a one-page vita with contact information and email address. If accepted, individual papers will be assigned by the program committee to an appropriate panel with a chair/commentator. Those who volunteer to serve as chairs and commentators should send a one-page curriculum vitae to the program committee chair before September 1 at smhconvention2023@gmail.com.

Proposals will be judged according to the following criteria:

- Proposal explains the topic, research questions, methodologies, and historiographic significance in ways that specialists and non-specialists alike can understand (10 points)
- Proposal presents new findings or revisions of long-held interpretations. (10 points)
- Proposal addresses the conference theme. (5 points)
- Proposal reflects the SMH's diversity of institutional affiliations, various career paths and ranks, gender, race, and ethnicity. (Does not apply to individual submissions)

Participants may present one paper, serve on a roundtable, or provide panel comments. They may not fill more than one of these roles during the conference, nor should they propose to do so to the Program Committee. Members who act as panel chairs for only one session may deliver a paper, serve on a roundtable, or offer comments in a different session. Members who serve as both the chair and commentator of a single session may not present in another session unless they do so at the invitation of the SMH leadership.

All submissions must be made through the 2023 SMH Submission Portal at www.smh-hq.org/2023submissions.html. One person will need to gather all required information for panel and roundtable submissions and enter the information in the portal. Individual paper submissions can be made by the individual. For questions about the submission process, contact smh2023@cypressplanninggroup.org. The submission portal will be accessible on 01 June.

At this time, it is doubtful that a virtual component will be offered. The conference format will be determined at the SMH Council Meeting on April 28, 2022.

All proposals must be submitted by August 15, 2023. All accepted presenters, chairs, and commentators must be members of the Society for Military History by December 31, 2023, to be placed on the conference program.

B.A. and M.A. Students

B.A. and M.A. students are encouraged to submit Individual paper proposals to include a 300-word abstract of the paper, and a one-page vita with contact information and email address. If accepted, individual papers will be assigned by the program committee to an appropriate panel with a chair/commentator. Proposals will be judged by similar criteria as the above call for papers. The deadline for submission is August 15, 2023.
